CHAMPAGNE

Champagne is the wine of celebration, commiseration, racecourse success, christenings, wedding & seductions, making the perfect aperitif or after-dinner refresher. There are many Champagne Houses, all making wine in their own style. Most Champagne can be a blend of Pinot Noir, Chardonnay & Pinot Meunier, there are exceptions, when made only from Chardonnay the Champagne will be listed as 'Blanc de Blanc'. Rosé has become very fashionable in recent years, it's lovely salmon pink colour will enhance any party or celebration.

ENGLISH WINES

A new page in our expanding wine list. We feel the need to shout about our English section as it really is rather wonderful. We are very lucky living on the Jurassic coast surrounded by some fantastic vineyards using all of today's methods but with the same basic principles and amazing grape varieties. We are starting close to home with some delightful Sparkling wines from Lytchett Matravers, before moving down the coast slightly to the now World-renowned Furleigh Estate just outside of Bridport, a quick skip into Devon and the Dart Valley before a final, at least at present, last jaunt over to Kent for some supremely good fizz from Gusbourne. We hope you enjoy exploring our offering as much as we enjoyed tasting them for you!

ENGLISH SPARKLING WINES

Produced locally in Dorset, English Oak Vineyard at Lytchett Matravers and Gusbourne Vineyards in Appledore Kent both wines are made from a blend of the classic Chardonnay, Pinot Meunier and Pinot Noir grapes. Great wines, why not try some for that perfect celebration.

New flavour profiles to tantalise your palate and make your tastebuds sing, a wonderful and somewhat unruly White Pinot Noir, a relatively new Bacchus Fume and a wonderfully light Loire Valley grape variety which is very similar to an Alsatian Pinot Blanc and a stunning Rose from the Gusbourne family

BORDEAUX

Our claret list is an ever-changing feast, offering classified wines and those little gems from lesser-known areas. Bordeaux is the largest fine wine region in the world, its great glories are its fine red wines, together with a tiny production of wonderful, sweet wines from Sauternes & Barsac. Bordeaux is split between two main districts, on the left bank of the Garonne is the Medoc where the wines in general are Cabernet Sauvignon driven with a little added Merlot. On the right bank we have St. Emilion and Pomerol, here the wines are Merlot driven with varying amounts of Cabernet Franc, these are very general comments as in life there are always many exceptions.

The wines of the Medoc are pleasantly perfumed especially when young and develop a good deal of finesse in bottle.

Alsace is one of the prettiest, and the most gastronomically rewarding and least known wine producing areas in France.

Lying on the lower slopes of the Vosges mountains, the vineyards are blessed with wonderful sunny days and just the right amount of rain to produce lovely characterful wines. The area has changed hands many times over the past 150 years between France and Germany, this has made the culture of winemaking different from the rest of France.
